This "circle chant" can be sung as a gathering song. It is written in three parts with the melody sung between two harmony parts and is best sung unaccompanied, with a steady pulse. Divide into three groups, with at least one confident singer in each group. Teach each group one of the lines of music, then put it all together for a beautiful effect. Young children will enjoy holding hands in a circle as this song is sung for them. Each time they hear the word "circle" they can change directions.
